I had my first baby way back in 2002...and as a new nursing mother, I didn't know much, didn't have a lactation consultant and there weren't many resources out there to help a mom out. I nursed him for 15 months with many trials including not knowing how to pump and nurse...So after that, I was frustrated and exhausted which led me to exclusively bottle feed my second and third babies. When I got pregnant with my fourth I had an online maternity group that was very supportive and helpful which led me to try to nurse him. Even when we had initial struggles from day one through day thirty...my group continued to support me with tips and encouragement.

When I got pregnant with my fourth I had an online maternity group that was very supportive and helpful which led me to try to nurse him. Even when we had initial struggles from day one through day thirty...my group continued to support me with tips and encouragement. I learned how to pump & nurse and was able to allow family members, including his brothers to feed him.

Both times nursing I went through so many nursing pads because I leaked like a fountain. It was a little sad to see all that milk get discarded when it could have served as a bottle or have been donated to babies in need. My Milkies Milk-Saver is an ingenious product that helps to collect some of that milk so that there is no more...crying over "spilled" milk! The patented Milk-Saver collects your leaking breast milk as you nurse or pump which allows you to store extra breast milk effortlessly with each feeding.

Milk-Saver is easy to use, you simply slip the Milk-Saver into your bra-cup on the non-nursing side before you breastfeed. The Milk-Saver then collects the milk that is leaked when your breast milk lets down. Once you've finished your breastfeeding session, simply transfer the collected milk into storage containers and keep it in the refrigerator or freezer to feed your baby at a later time. Slim and portable, the patented Milk-Saver allows you breastfeed anywhere without the fear of embarrassing leaks or losing your milk into nursing pads. It also comes with a durable case, so your Milk-Saver will stay safe and clean when you're on the go. The Milk-Saver holds a little more than 2 ounces of breast milk, and includes a protective lid to prevent milk from spilling out during normal use.

I really wish I would have had these when I was nursing! They would have saved so many headaches and tears.
